Position Description

This 12-month Postdoctoral Fellowship in Private Practice (TDPF) enables fellows to garner expertise in evidence-based intervention, via providing individual and family-based services within an established and collaborative group practice. Fellows will enjoy a coordinated opportunity for: direct clinical service (intake assessment, treatment planning, and intervention); regular professional supervision; collaborative clinical consultation (with psychiatrists, pediatricians, educators, evaluators, etc.); and ongoing professional development activities (both designated and self-directed). Via robust clinical opportunities and diverse supervision, fellows gain expertise in practicing evidence-based intervention (e.g., CBT; SPACE; etc.) with children and adolescents struggling with anxiety disorders, mood disorders, OCD, trauma, and a variety of emotional/behavioral concerns. Additionally, fellows will receive extensive training in individual and group-based Parent Consultation for concerns related to a variety of emotional and behavioral difficulties (e.g., ADHD, anxiety, OCD).

Application Requirements

Applicants must have graduated from an APA- or CPA-accredited doctoral program with an emphasis in clinical or counseling psychology, and (by the start of fellowship) successfully completed an APA-approved or APPIC-accredited internship program. Preference will be given to applicants with demonstrated interest and experience in evidence-based intervention for children, adolescents, and families.

Compensation & Benefits

The accepted applicant will become a salaried employee of Therapy Dallas. Compensation will be discussed at the time of interview and will be commensurate with national, competitive postdoctoral fellowships. Benefits include (but are not limited to):

- Robust consultative environment
- Patient referrals and wait list management
- Full-time administrative support
- EHR with telehealth platform
- Professional liability and malpractice insurance
- Fully-furnished therapy office and shared spaces
- Stipends for CEs and (optional yet encouraged) provision of pro-bono services
- Opportunity for long-term engagement with the practice

Start Date and Duration

This position is scheduled to begin in August/September 2027, with the flexibility to begin sooner.

Practice Description

Therapy Dallas (www.therapydallas.com) is an established group practice offering coordinated and comprehensive evidence-based psychological services for children, adolescents, and adults in the Dallas area. The postdoctoral fellow will work under the supervision of Kristen Ohlenforst, PhD and an additional licensed psychologist (to be chosen based on applicant's clinical interests), and alongside licensed clinicians and fellow trainees who collectively provide individual psychotherapy (CBT and play-based), parent consultation, group therapy, and family-based intervention. Therapy Dallas provides equal employment opportunities to all applicants; we embrace diversity and all aspects of identity, both when working with clients and alongside one another.

Application Process

Applications will be accepted on a rolling basis until the position is filled, with priority given to applications received prior to December 11, 2026. Please submit the following materials via APPA CAS or e-mail (info@therapydallas.com):

- Cover Letter
- Curriculum Vitae
- Official Transcript from Graduate Program
- 2 Letters of Recommendation from clinicians well-acquainted with your graduate training, clinical work, and professional interests.

Our office will e-mail you to confirm receipt of completed applications. Upon review of the above-listed application materials, we may invite you to schedule one or more formal interview(s), with options to meet in person and/or virtually.

Additional Information

Having enjoyed training postdoctoral fellows since 2011, we are pleased to offer 1 fellowship position this year. To request our TDPF Brochure and/or additional information, please contact our Office Manager, Nicole Novit, either by phone (214-755-6119) or e-mail (info@therapydallas.com). Thank you for your interest in our group!
